This week at amazing Al Muna we have had our fabulous Drama week. In this drama week all of the pupils were divided into different groups, for example the 'scenery group' which have been creating and designing the backdrop for the one and only play called "Hans Anderson".

The show will be presented on Thursday from 9:15 am to 10:00am. The groups have had much fun being able to create and paint different objects.

The Inchworm group has been using newspaper to make structures, as you can see in this picture.

The choir group has been practicing hard to play their set instruments for the show; also they have been continuously practicing the lyrics to all the songs.

Some students used maracas and some used xylophone

In conclusion, the play is going to be fabulous!
